Round 15
17:20 - 19:40

With more than half the Round-Robin completed, some of the teams expected to be contesting the quarter finals may be mindful of the words of the poet Andrew Marvell, 'At my back I always hear Time's wingèd chariot hurrying near'. In the Bermuda Bowl the teams at risk include Monaco, Germany and China, France, Israel, and both teams from the USA have work to do in the Venice Cup while Turkey and Poland are looking upwards in the d'Orsi Trophy. If you ask any of these teams (or indeed any of the squads in contention) what is likely to count over the next three days and what their most valuable asset might be I am willing to bet that the most common answer is likely to be experience. Those who have played at the highest level before are less likely to crack under pressure and they generally seem to be able to find an extra gear when it is needed. Mind you, as we saw in the recent World Athletics Championships, greatness in itself is not always enough, so perhaps we are about to witness a changing of the guard. We'll have the answer in three days' time.

Le Grand Prix de la ville de Lyon 24-25 Août

Le Grand Prix de la ville de Lyon est une épreuve par équipe ouverte à tous, organisée en formule BAM (Board-a-match, littéralement « une donne, un match »).

Cette épreuve est un prolongement du Transnational puisque toutes les équipes non-qualifiées pour les quarts de finale peuvent s'y inscrire sans droits supplémentaires si elles restent dans la même formation.

La WBF offre à la FFB la possibilité d'inscrire des équipes françaises à cette compétition de très haut niveau.

Les droits d'inscription seront de 280€/équipe (4 à 6 joueurs).

Les inscriptions sont possibles à partir d'aujourd'hui 10 h auprès d'Antonio Salgueiro à la Boutique de la FFB qui se situe juste après le contrôle des badges.

L'équipe de France Open

présentée par Lionel Sebbane et Philippe Cronier

Il s'agit de l'équipe qui a gagné les championnats d'Europe en 2016 à Budapest.

La paire de « jeunes » est composée de :

Thomas Bessis : ses parents bridgeurs ont tenté de lui faire faire des études d'ingénieur mais le virus familial a été plus fort et il consacre sa vie au bridge quand il n'est pas au parc des Princes pour soutenir le PSG.

Et

Frédéric Volcker : ses parents bridgeurs ont tenté de lui faire faire des études de mathématiques mais le virus familial a été plus fort et il consacre sa vie au bridge (mais aussi à sa compagne Sophie et à sa fille Garance) quand il n'est pas au Parc des Princes pour soutenir le PSG.

La paire de « vieux » est composée de :

François Combescure : le régional de l'étape, il fait la Une de tous les médias rhônalpins avec ses enfants Baptiste et Sarah, eux aussi en équipe de France (respectivement Juniors et Girls).

Et

Jérôme Rombaut : l'hyperactif de l'équipe. Entre deux parties de bridge, sa femme Céline, ses trois enfants et son poste de direction à Funbridge, il trouve le temps de faire du triathlon et a récemment réussi à participer (et à terminer) l'Ironman (3,8 km à la nage, 180 km en vélo et un marathon pour finir...) de Nice.

La paire « transgénération » est composée de :

Cédric Lorenzini : Après une thèse en chimie sur l'élaboration de matériaux polymères issus de ressources renouvelables (!!), il a choisi de devenir bridgeur professionnel et vient de se marier avec sa compagne Aurélie qui, quand elle abandonne ses activités d'actuaire, codirige le fan-club de l'équipe avec Emma, la femme de François.

Et

Jean-Christophe Quantin : Le « doyen » de l'équipe. Il était déjà en équipe de France quand son partenaire Cédric n'était pas encore né ! Il est pourtant loin d'avoir l'âge de jouer en senior. Signe de la complémentarité de l'équipe, il partage la même passion que les deux jeunes : il est fan de Neymar et du PSG.

Le capitaine Lionel Sebbane est malheureusement plus connu dans les médias pour ses participations à différents jeux télévisés que pour le titre de Budapest mais espérons que ces championnats à Lyon apporteront plus de visibilité à notre loisir préféré.

Une visite au Vu-Graph ?

Vous pouvez, bien sûr, suivre des rencontres sur votre ordinateur, vous pouvez préférer vous installer en salle ouverte et vivre le match de votre choix, en vrai. Il existe une troisième option que je vous recommande, la salle du Rama, ou si vous préférez du Vu-Graph.

Elle est située au niveau +1 dans l'auditorium Pasteur.

C'est une salle de spectacle en gradin aux sièges confortables et à la climatisation impeccable.

Un match se déroule sur l'écran, donne par donne, carte par carte, avec les commentaires éclairés de trois experts, en Anglais par Barry Rigal, l'Américain, David Stern, l'Australien ou Marek Wojciki, le Polonais, et en Français, par Michel Sahal.

Vous bénéficierez, naturellement, des enchères et, en outre connaîtrez, par le détail, ce qui s'est passé dans l'autre salle.

Mais les renseignements à votre disposition ne s'arrêteront pas là, loin s'en faut. Sur l'écran s'affichera également chacun des scores enregistrés à chacune des 66 tables. Tout cela grâce à la technologie du Professore Gianni Baldi. Vous vivrez, ainsi, un thriller, interprété par 244 acteurs simultanément.

Sabine Auken a écrit sur Facebook.

Sabine Auken

«Lyon offre les meilleures conditions de jeu que j'ai jamais eu l'opportunité d'expérimenter»

Un compliment à prendre en compte quand on saura que Sabine a représenté l'Allemagne mais aussi le Danemark et les Etats-Unis et qu'elle même ne saurait compter le nombre de pays où elle est allée jouer.

PROFILS

Jean-Claude Thuillier

Il a fait carrière comme ingénieur dans les travaux publics. En parallèle, joueur de bridge de première série, il fut Président du comité de Picardie avant d'occuper les fonctions de Directeur de la FFB. Aujourd'hui, à la retraite, il a été élu Secrétaire Général de la Fédération Française. A ce titre, il est chargé de mission auprès Jean-Louis Council. Ce choix paraît d'autant plus judicieux qu'il avait acquis une solide expérience dans le sillage de Jean-Claude Beineix lors des championnats d'Europe 2008 à Pau.

Jean-Claude Thuillier

Nous l'avons rencontré pour qu'il nous explique son rôle qui éclaire une partie des tâches nécessaires au bon fonctionnement d'un championnat comme Lyon 2017.

Nous l'avons vu arriver avec un volumineux et impressionnant dossier contenant des centaines de plans grand format. Explication : il avait à charge de définir jour par jour l'utilisation des quelques 8000 m2 mis à disposition en fonction des diverses épreuves organisées par la WBF ou la FFB. A charge pour lui de gérer les flux d'affluence en accord avec les services de sécurité, de prévoir les emplacements des fontaines d'eau (19 au total pour une consommation prévisible de 8000 litres d'eau). La reproduction des bulletins papier était également dans son domaine d'activité avec de gros soucis imprévus à quelques jours du début du championnat lorsque le fournisseur fut défaillant.

Jean-Claude dresse la conclusion: «Ce Palais est une superbe machine mais avec de multiples contraintes horaires, sécurité, limitation des coûts supplémentaires, besoins en personnel, pour l'instant le navire vogue sans remous.»

L'AUTRE BULLETIN

Depuis hier, nous ne sommes plus seuls, le championnat mondial des jeunes a débuté et avec lui son bulletin avec Brent Manley comme rédacteur en chef. Il est disponible aux mêmes emplacements que le nôtre ...et au même prix : il est gratuit.

A propos du championnat des jeunes, notons que les organisateurs craignaient une cérémonie d'ouverture trop confidentielle. Elle s'est déroulée dans l'amphithéâtre Pasteur à guichets fermés, les 350 places se sont révélées insuffisantes.

La donne du jour

Le Bangladesh fut à deux doigts d'obtenir une retentissante victoire contre la France, championne d'Europe en titre. Les favoris durent se contenter d'un court succès par 3 IMPs. A la vérité, celui-ci aurait été bien plus large (28 IMPs) sans une défaillance inhabituelle de Thomas Bessis au jeu de la carte après que sa paire ait pris l'avantage à l'enchère. Cachez les jeux d'E/O.

Donne 13. Donneur Nord. Tous Vul.

♠ — ♥ A 10 9 7 3 2 ♦ A D 4 ♣ R 6 4 2

Tandis que le Bangladesh se contentait en salle fermée du contrat de 3 Sans-Atout, Bessis et Volcker enchérissaient ce bon chelem à 6 Carreaux par Nord sur entame atout, Ouest défausse un Trèfle.

Votre ligne de jeu ? A la table, le déclarant prit en main et joua Cœur avec pour ambition d'affranchir la couleur, le partage des atouts (connu dès la première levée) et celui des Cœurs eurent raison du contrat. Nous avons vu un autre déclarant échouer en jouant Pique coupé à la deuxième levée, puis As de Cœur et Cœur coupé : une de chute en raison d'un uppercut au troisième tour de Cœur.

La bonne ligne de jeu consiste à jouer TREFLE à la seconde levée.

Si l'As de Trèfle est placé en Est, vous aurez une défausse sur le Roi et il suffira de couper un seul Pique au mort. Si l'As de Trèfle est en Ouest, celui-ci ne pourra rejouer atout et vos risques d'uppercut, quand vous chercherez à rejoindre votre main pour couper deux Piques au mort, seront bien plus réduites.

Misplay this Hand with Me: The Kingdom of the Blind

Having been persuaded to come out of retirement to play in the World Championships in Lyon, the early rounds have passed without incident when I pick up a shapely hand:

♠ A K 10 8
♥ J
♦ K J 9 8 6 5 3

I am the dealer with both sides vulnerable. I open 1♦ and my partner responds 1♥. East doubles and I introduce my other suit by bidding 1♠. When my partner continues with 2♣ (which we play as forcing to game) I consider bidding 3♦, but mindful that East's double suggests that suits will not be breaking I content myself with 2♦ which partner raises to 3♦. Our agreements are that we will only cue-bid first-round controls, but rather than bid 3♠ I bide my time by bidding 4♦. When partner cue bids 4♥ I ask for key cards with 4NT and partner responds 5NT, which we play as showing two key cards and a void. As that must be in spades, I bring proceedings to a close with 6♦. This has been our lengthy sequence:

West	North	East	South
—	—	—	1♦
Pass	1♥	Dble	1♠
Pass	2♣*	Pass	2♦
Pass	3♦	Pass	4♦
Pass	4♥*	Pass	4NT*
Pass	5NT*	Pass	6♦
All Pass

West leads the two of diamonds and partner gives me some good cards:

♥ A 10 9 7 3 2
♦ A Q 4
♣ K 6 4 2

♠ A K 10 8
♥ J
♦ K J 9 8 6 5 3

When I follow with dummy's four East discards the five of clubs. I win in hand with the five, ruff a spade, cash the ace of hearts, ruff a heart, West following with the king, ruff a spade and ruff a heart. When West overruffs with the ten and plays a club I am one down.

This was the full deal:

	♥ A 10 9 7 3 2
	♦ A Q 4
	♣ K 6 4 2
♠ 9 6 5 3 2		♠ Q J 7 4
♥ K 6	N	♥ Q 8 5 4
♦ 10 7 2	W	♦ —
♣ Q 10 9	S	♣ A J 8 5 3
		♠ A K 10 8
		♥ J
		♦ K J 9 8 6 5 3

Post mortem

It was very careless to allow West's ten of diamonds to be promoted, but it is all too easy to have this type of blind spot.

As soon as East shows out on the first round of diamonds declarer can make this contract in several ways - perhaps the prettiest is to win the opening lead with dummy's four of diamonds and then exit with the king of clubs, since East's initial double marks him with ♣A.

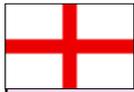

Having taken the first trick in hand, declarer can instead play a club at trick two, not caring who has the ace, as even were West able to win and play a second trump declarer would have an easy route to twelve tricks.

At the other table N/S did not get past 3NT and East led the five of clubs. After some dubious discards he took all the tricks, so we lost 13 IMPs.

In the Bermuda Bowl, Venice Cup & d'Orsi Trophy three declarers had to contend with a diamond lead against 6♦. None were successful.

Venice Cup RR - R7

England v USA I

David Bird

At the start of this match England was in 3rd place, with both the USA teams well below the half-way point, much to my surprise. I am a fervent supporter of all England teams, whatever the game or sport, and would somehow have to disguise this bias in my BBO voice commentary.

England began with two distressing boards:

Board 1. Dealer North. None Vul.

♠ K 10 9 8 5 4	♠ Q 3	♠ 6
♥ K 7	♥ 6 4 2	♥ 10 8 5

♠ A J 7 2	♠ 6

♣ K 6 5 3	♣ Q J 10 4 2

Open Room

West	North	East	South
Shi	Brown	Palmer	Brock
—	1♣*	Pass	1♦*
1♠	Dble*	Pass	2♠
Pass	3♥	Pass	4♥
All Pass

North's 1♣ was the opening bid on all weak INT types and the response was a transfer. This is a great method in general, but not so good here, when it put East on lead against the heart game. West won the first trick with the ♠K and switched to her singleton club. Brown won with the ♣A and now needed to play the ace and queen of trumps, as the cards lay. When she preferred to finesse the ♥Q, it was the defenders who proceeded to draw trumps – one at a time. Spade ruff, club ruff, spade ruff and the game was two down.

Closed Room

West	North	East	South
Draper	Zur-Campanile	Smith	Meyers
—	1♦	Pass	1♥
2♠	Pass	Pass	Dble
Pass	3♥	Pass	4♥
All Pass

Meyers won the club in hand, continuing with the ace and jack of trumps. West won and switched to a spade, dummy's queen winning. The ♦A was followed by the ♦Q, discarding a club. West won and delivered a spade ruff but declarer had the remaining tricks. 11 IMPs to USA I.

The unfailingly impartial BBO commentator was hoping for better things on the next board:

Board 2. Dealer East. N/S Vul.

♠ 9 7 6	♠ K J	♠ A 10 4 2
♥ A	♥ 8 7 5 4 3	♥ J 10 9 6

All Pass

North's redouble is fine, with 11 points, but 2♠ looks like an overbid to me. Would a double not be better?

4♥ would have been hopeless on the lie of the cards but Brock arrived in 3NT. I was hoping that Shi would see the merits of 'fourth best from the longest and strongest', after which Brock would surely be writing +600 in her card. No, Shi liked the look of her ♣Q and laid this card on the table. Brock's inscription was then -200.

A disciplined check-back auction and that was +140 for another 8 IMPs. Nothing much happened for a few boards and then we had this competitive deal:

Board 9. Dealer North. E/W Vul.

	♠ Q 6 4

Palmer was probably expecting only 300 from 5♦ doubled and took the push to 5♠. She won the ♦Q lead in dummy and led a trump to the ace. After a club to the king, she played the ♠8 and North's ♠6 appeared. After South's weak jump overcall it seemed clear to finesse the ♠J. Palmer gave the defenders some hope for quite a while, considering the matter. Then... learned commentator slumps in his chair... she finessed the ♠J. After that, it was a simple matter to ruff the third round of clubs and lead hearts to reach her hand and draw the last trump. 5♠ was a brave bid and the contract had been well-played.

Closed Room

Draper introduced her hearts, as I would have done, and there was then no option of bidding 5♠ over 5♦. 4 more IMPs to USA1.

Brock produced some pleasing card-play on this deal:

North's double showed spades and 4♥ was a re-transfer to 4♠. Brock ducked the ♣Q lead, East opting not to overtake. She won the next club and drew trumps with the ace and king. After eliminating the club suit, she played the ace, king and jack of hearts. When the ♥Q appeared from West, she discarded a diamond from dummy to leave West endplayed. Shi laid down the ♦A and declarer claimed the remainder.

It was not really possible after this bidding, but suppose West had held ♦A-Q-10 over declarer's ♦K-6-2. It might then have been necessary for East to overtake the ♣Q opening lead to prevent the elimination in the ending.

Smith led the ♠10, covered by the jack, queen and ace. After two rounds of trumps, Zur-Campanile crossed to the ♥K and ruffed a heart. A diamond to the 10 lost to the queen. Declarer won the ♣Q return in dummy and exited with the ♣8 to East's ♣10. She ruffed the club return and crossed to the ♠K to lead another diamond, the king losing to West's ace. That was one down and 12 very welcome IMPs to England.

On the next board, the multi caused big problems... for the side that opened it.

Brown passed on the first round, saying that she was willing to play in 2♦ doubled. West bid the required 3♣ over her partner's Lebensohl response and we waited to see how North would develop the constructive N/S auction. She bid 3♥. Was that forcing? If there was any doubt about it, I suggested that South should raise to 4♥ anyway, with her heart support. No, Brock passed. She no doubt took into consideration her partner's willingness to play in 2♦ doubled. (They did play in this contract at one Bermuda Bowl table, collecting +480 in an unusual way.) That was +230.

No, the aged writer has not made some foolish mistake. This was the bidding at the other table too. David Burn quipped that N/S should worry about having the worst auction in the whole tournament. It was only the joint worst!

I would like to end my report at this point but, sadly, England had two more big losses to come.

It seemed that Brown had a choice between Double and 3♣ at her second turn. She opted to pass and a few moments later Brock was on lead against 4♥.

A nett swing of 17 IMPs was at stake. As you see, a club lead followed by a ♦K switch will give the defenders the first four tricks. Even though North had not taken the chance to advertise her genuine clubs, I was a bit surprised when the ♠6 hit the table. That was +650 to USAI.

In a rare stroke of good fortune, I have run out of space to describe England's missed slam on Board 16. The match ended in a 50-19 win for the Americans (16.88-3.12). Ah well, England are still 5th and USAI are 11th. It's not the end of the world.

Germany v USA I

Jos Jacobs

At the start of Round 8, Germany had reached top of the standings after their big win in the morning match. On the other hand, their scheduled opponents, USAI, had just suffered a serious setback against Australia, which saw them leave the top eight. So the question was: Would Germany keep their fine position or would USAI climb back into the qualifying spots?

Both teams were off to a bad start as they missed a fine, albeit not too easy chance on the first board of the match:

In many textbooks 4♠ would show an even stronger hand than 3♠ would already have shown, so I think there is something to be said for a polite raise by East, who is looking at two nice aces. When East eventually passed, the chance for a big swing had gone. Twelve tricks, of course, so no swing. It should be noted that even a trump lead does not help the defence as South cannot play a second trump when he gets the lead in diamonds.

In both the BB and the VC slam was bid only twice. Three more pairs enjoyed playing in 4♠ doubled...

We all have sympathy for East, even more so in view of the entire auction. He preferred a safe diamond lead over an adventurous lead of partner's opened suit. As this lead cost a tempo, Rodwell suddenly was in a good position to exert some pressure. He won the  $\diamond K$  and cashed his four heart tricks on which West threw a spade. Next, he led a spade from dummy and ducked West's jack. When West continued the  $\spadesuit K$ , Rodwell won and ducked a diamond to West's now bare ace. West could win his remaining spade tricks but had to give dummy the last trick in clubs. Had West blanked his  $\clubsuit Q$ , this endplay would not have been possible. Just made, USAI +90 and 5 IMPs to them to open their account.

Two boards later, robbery was the issue.

As you can see,  $5\diamond$  has good chances and on the actual layout, E/W will also make  $4\spadesuit$ . The popular contracts, however, were a diamond partscore in the VC and 3NT in the BB. The big majority of the 3NT bidders duly went down but there were a few exceptions. As it happened, the two tables in this match were examples of how to cope and not to cope with robbery attempts.

At the other table, Rehder had much more work to do. There had been no intervention and North led a diamond to the nine and declarer's king. What is the best line?

Declarer's problem at this point is first of all that he has no good discards from hand if he plays on diamonds. So, at the table, Rehder led a club to dummy's king and, when this won the trick, led a spade to his jack and North's doubleton queen – about the worst layout for declarer as the ♠10 might also appear on time later on. North exited with a heart to South's jack, which won the trick. The ♥K came next, declarer winning the ace and throwing a diamond from dummy. At this point, declarer cannot continue hearts as South will win and push a club through, so Rehder had to cash out, conceding down two. USAI +100 and another 11 IMPs.

The last board of the match put the final nail into the German coffin.

The Germans did well to avoid the hopeless 4♥ but it would have needed some real clairvoyance to bring home even nine tricks. Welland got a chance, however, but he could not possibly know he actually had been given a chance when Levin led the ♣9. By agreement, this could be from both 109xx and Q109x so what should he do, in view of the opening bid?

When he called for dummy's jack at trick one, he was down very quickly as Levin could no longer be endplayed. When Welland took his last chance by taking the spade finesse near the end, he was in fact down two. USAI +100 and 6 more IMPs to them to make the final score a quite convincing 41-1 to USAI or 18.09-1.91 V.P. USAI had made it back into the top eight.

Had Welland played East for the doubleton ♣Q, he might well have made the contract, as was shown in a VC match (Poland v Netherlands).

Cathy Baldysz as West had opened 1♣ (Polish), which, not at all unreasonably, induced her daughter Zofia to try the lead of the ♣Q against North's 3NT. This was all Merel Bruijnstee, the Dutch declarer in the North seat, needed for her endplay. ♣A, low heart to West, club back to the jack, ♥A and a heart to West, ♣10 won by dummy's ♣K, East throwing a spade. Over to the ♠A in hand, two more hearts throwing dummy's two low diamonds, back to ♠K and exit from dummy with a club to West's nine. West now had to give dummy the last trick with the ♦K. Well spotted!

It turned out later that she was the only declarer in either BB or VC to receive this fortunate lead and also make the contract. All other declarers in 3NT went down, except one (thanks to a defensive error).

Championship Diary

Part 1

Some actors and actresses, both past and present, have attained notoriety by being difficult to work with. For example: Jennifer Lopez is said to have a long list of demands that must be met if she is going to appear in a film. She is known to throw fits if she doesn't get her way. Julia Roberts may be America's sweetheart, but she is rumoured to be a diva on set.

She was nicknamed "Tinkerhell" by the crew on the film Hook. Marlon Brando was known to be extremely difficult to work with, especially later in his career. He showed up drunk on the set of Apocalypse Now, refused to read the script, and demanded to be shot in a way that hid his weight.

Having been asked to make a couple of videos yesterday morning, the Editor, having sat around waiting for half-an-hour, stormed off the set, saying that was 30 minutes of his life that he would like back - not unlike attending an IBPA Executive meeting according to Tacchi.

For Russia, Anna Gulevich opened the East hand with a multi and Ida Grönkvist doubled, showing a weak to intermediate no trump or some strong hands. Elena Khonicheva jumped to 3♥, pass or correct, and after a pass from Cecilia Rimstedt, Gulevich duly converted to spades. When that came round to Rimstedt she doubled for take-out and, as E/W had both done all their bidding by now, Grönkvist's 4♣ response ended the auction. Khonicheva led the eight of spades to dummy's bare ace and Grönkvist led a club to her king, getting the bad news. She switched her attention to diamonds, Khonicheva winning the jack with the ace and switching to king then queen of hearts to establish two winners in that suit. The contract was down two for -100.

For Sweden Emma Ovelius opened a natural weak two bid and this permitted Sandra Rimstedt to jump to 4♠ over the take-out double, putting the pressure onto Victoria Gromova, North. Gromova bid 4NT, two or more places to play, and Tatiana Ponomareva bid 5♣, promptly doubled by Rimstedt. The lead was again a spade to the bare ace. Ponomareva played a club to the king followed by the king of diamonds to Rimstedt's ace. Rimstedt played back the ♣Q to the ace and Ponomareva ruffed and played on diamonds. Rimstedt ruffed the third round and playing the king of hearts. As at the other table, there were two of those to be lost so the contract was down three for -500 and 9 IMPs to Sweden.

Khonicheva opened INT in third seat and declared 2♠ after a Stayman response from Gulevich. Cecilia Rimstedt cashed the ace of clubs then switched to her spade, Grönkvist ducking dummy's jack. Khonicheva led a diamond to the king and ace and the heart return was covered all around. Khonicheva returned the seven of hearts, to Grönkvist's king and back came a club to the jack followed by the ♣K, ruffed and over-ruffed. Grönkvist played back the jack of diamonds to declarer's queen and Khonicheva cashed the ♠A, so was down one for -50.

Sandra Rimstedt opened 1♣ in third seat and Gromova overcalled a somewhat distorted INT. Ponomareva used Stayman and Gromova judged to pass 2♣. That put Ovelius in an interesting position and, despite holding only the two jacks, she chose to compete with 2♥, where she played. You might think that the five-two fit might fare less well than the four-four spade fit, but it actually turned out better. Ponomareva led a club so Gromova won and played two more rounds, the third being ruffed with the eight and over-ruffed with the queen (might South have done better to discard on this trick?). Ponomareva returned a low diamond to the king, ducked, and declarer now played the seven of hearts to the king. Ponomareva got out with a heart to the ace and now Ovelius led a low diamond away from the queen. Gromova went up with the ace and returned a club but Overlius could ruff, draw the last trump and take the spade finesse for eight tricks; +110 and 4 IMPs to Sweden.

The score had moved on to 17-0 when the next major swing came along.

Long gone are the days when a three-level pre-empt was based on a seven-card suit. Nowadays very many players are happy to make the bid on only six cards and, as we can see, that includes both our Norths in this match. In theory, the deal belongs to N/S in 4♣, but it was impossible for South to know that and both players jumped to 5♣ and left their opponents to guess what, if anything, to do. Sandra passed so Gromova was one down for just -50, while Khonicheva doubled and, looking at a balanced hand containing a lot of likely losers, Gulevich left it in. With no five-level contract even close to making for E/W, that was the right thing to do and Russia scored +100 and +2 IMPs; 3-28.

In the Swedish auction we know that 2♣ was a GF relay but what the subsequent bidding meant is, not surprisingly, not covered on their convention card. Ponomareva's 1♣ opening was the strong variety of Polish Club and 2♦ a natural game-force. All that we can say is that the two pairs knew what they were doing and both reached a good spot; no swing at +1510 and +1520.

Cecilia's 1♦ opening would normally be unbalanced and the 1NT response a GF relay. After another artificial sequence, Grönkvist jumped to 6♦. Gulevich led the nine of clubs, which could have been either from shortage, 109x(x) or H109x(x). Khonicheva went up with the ace and returned the suit, hoping that the club lead was a singleton or that partner would have a trump trick by force. It was not to be. Cecilia discarded a spade, won the ♣K and cashed the ace of diamonds, ruffed a club and ruffed a spade. She could draw trumps now and had 12 tricks for a painless +1370.

At the other table the Russian N/S stopped in game without really getting to grips with the possibility of their being a slam available to them. Sometimes, when dummy goes down and you see that you might have bid more, you take your eye off the ball in your actual contract, and that was the case for Gromova on this deal. She received a diamond lead and, for no particular reason, rose with dummy's ace. She continued by playing ace of hearts and ruffing a heart low, ruffed a spade then ruffed another heart low. Ovelius over-ruffed and returned her remaining trump and suddenly Gromova had only ten tricks, having to concede a club and a spade in the ending for down one; -100 and 16 IMPs to Sweden, who led by 47-3.

Of course, declarer could have made 11 tricks simply by winning the first diamond in hand and taking one spade ruff before drawing trumps.

Grönkvist opened a strong no trump as South and when that came round to Gulevich she balanced with 2♥, both majors. Khonicheva gave preference to 2♠ and that rather inelegant contract drifted three down for -150. No double, no trouble, as they say.

In the other room, Ovelius opened a mini no trump on the East cards, in principle 9-12 but occasionally either 8 or 13 HCP. Ponomareva doubled, then bid her spades when Sandra's 2♣ run-out came back to her. Gromova didn't fancy spades, otherwise Russia might have played the same contract at both tables, which is rarely a recipe for success unless that contract is INT. She converted to 3♦ and played there. Ovelius led a club so Sandra took three of those then switched to a heart to her partner's ace. The trump loser was the setting trick; down one for -50 and 5 IMPs to Sweden, who led by 52-3.

It was Gromova's turn to open a mini no trump and that scooped the pool. Ovelius started with the ♠K for unblock, cashed all the spades, then switched to the jack of diamonds. That established declarer's seventh trick for +90.

Cecilia could not open the North hand so Gulevich got to open as East and became declarer in 2♠. Grönkvist cashed a top club then switched to a heart, Cecilia winning the ace and switching back to clubs, ruffed in dummy. Gulevich cashed the ♥K, ruffed a club and set up the hearts, coming to ten tricks for +170 and 6 IMPs to Russia.

That made the final score 52-9 in favour of Sweden, converting to 18.44-1.56 VPs.

Bermuda Bowl RR - R9

China v Sweden

Ron Tacchi

Coming into this ninth round match Sweden were lying comfortably in third position. Meanwhile China had not performed to the level they have achieved in previous competitions and badly needed a good win to move them up the table and into contention for one of those qualification spots.

I have not been blessed with a raft of interesting hands in previous reports, let us hope this set will bring us some deals with swing possibilities.

Three dull boards followed where Sweden managed to score an overtrick IMP.

Spoiler alert – I might be using the above sentence more than once.

As I advance in years opening bids get lighter and lighter, I suspect if I continue reporting, soon twelve cards will be sufficient to enter the auction. The One Diamond opener did not promise a diamond suit. South, with his opening hand must have had hopes of a game on the opening deal but eventually got the message that his partner was absolutely minimum and allowed him to play in Four Clubs. Fortunately West did not compete further nor did he double. The contract drifted two off for the loss of 100.

At this table a junior could not find an opening bid with the North hand and so a simple Multi sequence allowed the Chinese to come to rest in Two Spades and make the ten tricks available. So after Board 1 I have a larger swing than in previous reports of 2 IMPs.

A simple enough contract to bid, but not necessarily simple enough to defend. The result depends solely on the lead. With all four hands on view it is easy enough to lead a diamond but at this table South started with a trump and thus the contract rolled home. In my opinion a trump lead is not going to be a winner; you would like to ruff spades and by a process of Cartesian logic you realise that partner will need to lead the suit. Further using the irresistible force of logic you deduce that you need to find partner's entry and it seems unlikely that is in trumps. If it is he will still be able to give you a ruff no matter what suit you lead. You pays your money and takes your choice as to which minor to lead, I have a preference for a diamond as it more likely to give you two entries to partner's hand.

Nyström and Upmark play a strong club system so the One Diamond opening does not promise a suit and can be bid with as little as an eleven count or even ten. They had a controlled auction to Three Hearts, and when dummy appeared declarer was probably relieved not to be in game. The bridge gods can be unkind at times and when the nine of clubs was led ensuring only one loser in the club suit declarer's facial expression surely turned sourer as firstly the trump finesse was successful followed by the really bad news that the ace of diamonds was well-placed. Thus the contract was made with an overtrick.

South's Three Hearts bid took up a lot of space and left North with a difficult choice and he opted for the heart game. When West led a spade declarer was able to discard two clubs from hand and then lead a trump allowing the contract to be brought home. Have you noticed that there are three opening leads which take the contract down? They are the ace of clubs and either of the two small trumps. The basic effect is to deny declarer access to dummy to cash the two top spades and discard losing clubs.

After the Three Diamonds bid East went into the tank for a long while before settling on raising to game. Five Diamonds was made with ease. Had he raised to slam how should declarer play after the lead of a trump and West discards? Why, claim of course. Surely you don't want me to dot the i's and cross the t's? If you do then you will find elsewhere in this worthy publication a dissertation by the TSE (The Supreme Editor – as per yesterday's bulletin) that will give you all the details. The upshot was 1 IMP to China which was the winning margin of yet another relatively dull set of boards. The final score being 19-18 to China or 10.31-9.69 in VPs.

World Championship Book 2017 – Lyon

The official book of these championships should be ready around the end of February next year. It will consist of approximately 350 large full colour pages and will include coverage of all the championship events, with particular emphasis on the latter stages of the Open and Women's Teams. There will be a full results service and many colour photographs.

The principle analysts, as in recent years, will be John Carruthers, Barry Rigal, Brian Senior and GeO Tislevoll.

On publication, the official retail price will be US$35 plus whatever your local bookseller charges for postage. For the duration of the championships, you can pre-order via Jan Swaan in the Press Room at the reduced price of 25 Euros, or 30 US$, including postage (surface mail).

Alternatively, you can pay the same prices via Paypal to Brian Senior at bsenior@hotmail.com, which is also an option for a limited period after the end of the championships.

Championship Diary Part 2

A Bridge Magazine subscriber has spotted a photograph showing four Polish Jewish Gentlemen playing cards (he thinks it was bridge) at a bridge-style card table within a deserted casino within a ghetto. There is a glamorous young lady watching one of the players. He is wondering if any of them could have been notable Polish bridge players prior to

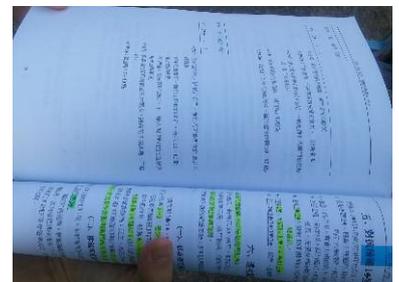

WWII. This is the link: <http://tinyurl.com/y6wrzofi>

If you have the time to take a look at it (especially if you are Polish!) and recognise anyone let us know!

Marek Wójcicki took this photo of the system book of one of the players in the Youth Championships:

With such a well defined system who can possibly beat them!

Can you identify these two famous bridge players? For a bonus point do you know when and where the picture was taken?

Max Bavin posted this comment on Facebook:
For the first time in 141 years a Test Match (that's cricket - see: <http://tinyurl.com/y7saxz5b> if you want to learn the rules) will be played at night under lights in England when they face the West Indies at the Oval.
I appreciate that there are many critics of this experiment, but actually I applaud the England & Wales Cricket Board for the foresight of seeking to avoid too much of a clash with England's Venice Cup campaign.
