Into the home stretch

This scene from the Kids Board-a-Match Teams on Tuesday provides a glimpse of the future of bridge. Clockwise, from left: Kexin Fan, Shanghai; Yidi Liu, Beijing; Yuchen Hu, Shanghai, and Zhili Zhuo, Beijing. Each of the young players is 13. Add up the ages and, well... you know.

There are two days left in the Funbridge Youth Open Bridge Championships, with the first prize-giving ceremony tonight and another tomorrow night. The turnout for the championships has delighted the organizers and renewed the hope of bridge lovers that many more years of prosperity are to come. Further, it has been a delight to witness the energy and joy of the young players.

Notice to Youth players

Players in the Board-a-Match Teams on Wednesday are invited to a short informational meeting regarding anti-doping regulations at 9:45 a.m. in the Vu-graph auditorium. The meeting will be led by Bruno Federico of the WBF Medical and Prevention Commission.

Today's Schedule

Plenty of action, not much scoring

By Brent Manley

Tuesday's Junior Teams match between USA and China RDFZ Synrey was a clash between the teams that scored the most impressive wins in the quarterfinal round. USA had dispatched the Norton Team 154-143. China topped Finland 148-126.

Playing for USA were Kevin Rosenberg, Anam Tebha and the Grossack brothers, Adam and Zach. Against them, China sent Shiyi Sun, Boyuan Xiong, Yichen Yin and Yi Zhou.

In the low-scoring match, the Chinese started the scoring on the first board.

Board 1. Dealer North. None Vul.

♠ K 8 4 ♥ 6 4 ♦ A Q 10 8 7 5 ♣ A 4

Tebha led the ♦2 to the jack and queen. At trick two, Rosenberg switched to a low spade, which declarer ran to dummy's 10. The ♠J to the queen picked up the suit and Sun later took three heart tricks for plus 140. At the other table:

West	North	East	South
Z Grossack	Yin	A Grossack	Zhou
2NT	INT	2♦*	Pass
3♠	3♦	Pass	Pass
	All Pass

Yin started with the ♣A and continued with a club to Zhou's king. Two more tricks went to the defense on the diamond switch. Yin's ♦10 was ruffed by declarer, now with only one trump for finessing against North's presumed ♠K. That meant one down for minus 50 and 5 IMPs to China. USA got it back, and then some, on the next board.

Board 2. Dealer East. N/S Vul.

♠ K Q 9 ♥ Q J 10 6 3 2 ♦ K ♣ K 9 4

Xiong did well to pass, and Sun was happy with the contract. Xiong led a low club to Sun's queen. Sun cashed the ♣A and ♥K and played a spade to Xiong's ace. The ♥A followed and a spade went to dummy's queen. Tebha got the bad news about trumps when she played the trump king. At that point, she had nothing but trumps in her hand with no way to shorten the suit. Two down for minus 200 was inevitable. At the other table:

West	North	East	South
Z Grossack	Yin	A Grossack	Zhou
Dble	All Pass	Pass	3♦

Zhou took the same number of tricks after the opening club lead and similar defense, but was one level higher and doubled. That was minus 800 and 12 IMPs to USA.

After seven boards, the score was 18-5 for USA. China scored again on this deal:

Sun led a low heart, taken by Rosenberg with the ace to play the ♠9 from dummy. Xiong played low and Sun won the ♠A. Sun cashed the ♥K, then played the ♦A and the ♥9, ruffed by Rosenberg, who ruffed his last spade in dummy, felling the king, and played a club to his ace. He claimed plus 110, losing a trick each in clubs, diamonds, hearts and spades. The auction was more spirited at the other table.

Zhou was obviously exited by his partner's Michaels cue-bid, describing a hand with 5-5 or better in spades and a minor. Zhou was headed for at least one down at 5♣, but the 5♥ bid by Adam Grossack gave the Chinese a chance for a plus.

Yin started with his singleton diamond. Zach Grossack went up with the ♦A and played a low heart from dummy. Zhou played the trump ace, cashed the ♦K and gave his partner a ruff. The ♠Q went to declarer's king. Zach then pulled trumps and began playing the suit. This put pressure on North, who no doubt was envisioning a three-trick set. Near the end. North was squeezed in the black suits, forcing to unguard spades or come down to a singleton ♣A. The result was two down, minus 300 instead of 500. Still, it was a 5-IMP gain for China.

The final board of the set featured more doubling, this time at both tables.

After her partner converted her takeout double to penalty, Tebha led her singleton spade to the queen and 6 from declarer. At trick two, Rosenberg played the ♦K, then the ♥10 to the queen and Tebha's king. On the club switch, Sun went up with dummy's ace and played a diamond to the South hand. Tebha then gave her partner a diamond ruff, took the heart return with the ace and gave her partner a heart ruff. Declarer ended up with six tricks for one down and minus 100.

At the other table, there was some danger the players would run out of red cards.

As Tebha had done, Zhou started with his singleton trump, but Adam Grossack won the opening lead instead of ducking. At trick two, he played the ♠J from hand, ducked by Yin. Grossack then played the ♦4 to dummy's 9 and Yin's king. The ♦8 went to the queen and Zhou's ace. He cashed the ♥A and ♥K and continued with a heart. Yin declined to ruff and Grossack won the ♥J in hand. At that point, he conceded two down for minus 300. The final swing to China was the same as the first: 5 IMPs. The set ended with USA ahead 20-16.

India comes from behind

By David Stern

Halfway through the scheduled 56-board quarter-final, Ville Fabbriche (Minutti, Shah, Bakke and Crusizio - VF) led India (Das, Kar, Kushari and Roy) 47-45, with India having recovered 11 IMPs of their 13-IMP deficit on the previous 14 boards.

- The match started off quietly with
- Bd 1 VF two down (-100) in INT while their teammates bid and made 3♣ for a push.
 - Bd 2 Both tables bid and made a good 4♠ contract.

The first exchange of IMPs occurred on the next boards.

In the open room, North’s pass of his partner’s passed-hand 1♥ response, certainly played a part in encouraging East to bid a balancing INT and get his side to 2♠, where declarer lost four spades, a diamond a club for one down and -100.

In the closed room, North’s INT opposite his passed partner’s 1♥ response effectively kept the opponents out of the auction. The hands fit well and declarer made 10 tricks for 170. That was 2 IMPs to India to level the match.

India took a 48-47 lead after an overtrick on board 4, the first time in the match that they had been in front, and held on to that lead on board five when both tables bid and made a solid game.

That lead would increase on the next board.

The “real” action took place in the closed room, where West passed South’s 2♣, which showed the majors. When 3♥ came back to him he was somewhat fixed, so he tried a penalty double without holding any trumps of note. VF paid the price when the opponents made 10 tricks on East’s club lead, which allowed declarer to discard dummy’s two diamond losers. In a sense, West could have been a hero if partner had led a diamond and they had defeated the contract by a trick, but that was not to be. The result was minus 630 for East-West.

In the closed room, West had no interest in doubling the opponents for penalty, so he bid what he thought his partner could make. South chose well for his opening lead: the ♠10. Declarer had seven top tricks and could create one in hearts, but when he played a club from his hand, he was on the road to down two for minus 200. Even with the loss, India won 10 IMPs to take a 58-47 lead.

Two uninteresting games followed, while board 9 demonstrated an element of fearlessness.

To paraphrase a famous quote from the classic film, The Treasure of the Sierra Madre, "Who needs stoppers? We don't need no stinking stoppers!" At both tables, East opted for a high-quality weak 2♦. In the open room, Kar tried to keep things low and overcalled 2♥ while his counterpart in the closed room, Bakke, raised the stakes with 3♥. In both cases, West said, "♥ J 3 2: that looks like a stopper to me." Anyway, who are we to argue – making 11 tricks for a flat board when partner provided an excellent hand not to mention a heart stopper! It was indeed fortunate for the declarers that North, due to get in with the ♦K, started with just one heart.

After a flat game board, there came another swing to India.

In the open room, N/S limped into 2NT. East led the ♥7, effectively blocking the suit for the defence. Declarer was, however, in good shape, able to gather one spade, one heart, four diamonds and two clubs for eight tricks.

In the closed room, where East had overcalled in spades, West led a club rather than his partner's suit. This seems to be a case of believing the opponents rather than partner. Declarer cashed diamonds, finessed the ♣9 and played a spade to the king to make nine tricks while a heart lead would have defeated the contract. That was +400 and -120 to India and 7 IMPs and a 63-47 lead over VF.

There was one more swing in the match.

Difficult slam to reach?

By Micke Melander

In Round 7 of the U26 qualifier for the World Open Junior Teams, E-W held the following cards on the very first board of the match, with none vulnerable and neither of the opponents interfering they had to find way to their final destination.

♠ A Q J 9 6 2
♦ 7 2
♣ K 10 6 3 2

♠ K 7
♥ A J 10 4 3

How would the bidding go with your favorite partner?

If we look at the four fields we had in Lyon, the results were as follows:

Juniors 16 tables	Girls 14 tables	Youngsters 12 tables	Kids 26 tables
6NT 4	7♠ 2	7♠ 2	7♠ 2
6♠ 8	6NT 2	6NT 3	7♣ 1
5♦ 1	6♠ 5	6♠ 5	6♠ 15
4♠ 2	4♠ 4	6♣ 1	4♠ 3
3NT 1	3NT 1	4NT 1	3NT 5

When only six out of 68 reach the grand slam in spades, it must be a very difficult board to bid, and in fact almost one-third of the field did not even reach the small slam, which must be considered as almost 100% with so many possibilities to make 12 or 13 tricks!

The 100% thesis was also proved when checking the scores since almost none went down in anything they attempted to play. Except for the two declarers in 7♣ and 5♦ then...

So let's have a look at what happened in the U26 between Villa Fabbriche and USA to see what they were up to:

A very natural auction with a Gazilli twist didn't help either. Maybe West should have tried 6♥ on the way to 6♠ to see if partner could bid one level higher?

Curious over how difficult this hand seemed to be I went back to the cold Daily Bulletin room to find the editor of the big bulletin (you are now reading the small one) in Lyon, chatting with the world-famous coordinator. I decided to put them up to the test to see what they would achieve without agreements.

Bulletin Room – Attempt 1

West	North	East	South
The Editor		The Coordinator
	Pass	1♥	Pass
1♠	Pass	3♦	Pass
3♠	Pass	4♣	Pass
6♣	Pass	7NT	All Pass

The Coordinator jumped to 7NT claiming they must have a chance to do it all over again, since he had misread the ♣J to be the 3... and therefore he had miscalculated his HCPs. So here they go again:

Bulletin Room – Attempt 2

West	North	East	South
The Editor		The Coordinator
	Pass	2NT	Pass
3♥	Pass	3♠	Pass
4♣	Pass	5♠	Pass
6♥	Pass	7♠	All Pass

I'm curious over that 5♠ bid, it must have been made on a lot of unauthorized information, but no TD was called...
